Third Edition of the ASIST Thesaurus of Information Science, Technology, and Librarianship is published by ITI

October 7, 2005, Medford, New Jersey—Information Today, Inc. (ITI) has announced the publication of the ASIST Thesaurus of Information Science, Technology, and Librarianship, Third Edition, edited by Alice Redmond-Neal and Marjorie M. K. Hlava and published on behalf of the American Society for Information Science and Technology (ASIST).

The ASIST Thesaurus is recognized as the authoritative reference to the terminology of information science, technology, and librarianship. The newly updated and expanded third edition is an essential resource for indexers, researchers, scholars, students, and practitioners in the field.

A new optional feature of the third edition is a CD-ROM including all terms referenced in the print thesaurus along with Data Harmony's Thesaurus Master software. In addition to powerful search and display features, the CD-ROM allows users to add, change, and delete terms, and to learn the fundamentals of thesaurus construction while exploring the professional vocabulary of library and information science and technology. The thesaurus is available as a print volume only (ISBN 1-57387-243-1; $49.95) or in combination with the CD-ROM (ISBN 1-57387-244-X; $79.95).
